MEMORAND', quod in die Conversionis Sancti Pauli, Anno regni Regis Henrici Sexti post Conquestum Vicefimo, videlicet, Primo die Parliamenti, Venerabilis Pater Johannes Episcopus Bathon' & Wellen', Cancellarius Anglie, in presentia prefati Domini Regis, Sede Regia in Camera depicta juxta magnam Cameram Parliamenti infra Palatium suum Westm' sedentis, ac quamplurimum Dominorum Spiritualium & Temporalium, necnon Communitatis regni Anglie, ad Parliamentum predictum de mandatis Regis convocatorum, ex ipsius Domini Regis mandato, causas summationis Parliamenti inferius annotatas & insertas notabiliter pronunciavit & declaravit, assumens pro Themate suo seriem hanc verborum. Rex & Thronus ejus sit innocens. Secundo Regum XIII. In quibus verbis Duo specialiter annotavit. Primo, videlicet, excellentissime persone dicti metuendissimi Domini Regis per sapientiam preservationem, in hoc quod dicit 'Rex'. Secundo, illustrorum Corone & Regni suorum prosperitatem, in hoc quod dicit, ' & Thronus ejus sit innocens.' Et quia Rex a Regendo dicitur pro utroque simul scribitur. Rex qui iudicat in veritate, Thronus ejus in eternum firmabitur, Proverb' xxix.^o Cap. — Ac pro declaratione materie Thematis supradicti, quendam Textum Libri Regum, in quo continetur, qualiter nobilis Rex Salamon, tempore pacifico Regni sui, quendam magnum Thronum de Ebore puro fecerat fabricari, quem in auro purissimo includebat, qui quidem Thronus sex habuit gradus, per quos ascensus fieret usque ad Sedem ejusdem Throni, super quos quidem gradus, Duodecim Cavilli Leonum persisterunt, unus videlicet super quemlibet Angulum, cujuslibet graduum predictorum, Duque manus Sedem Throni predicti tenentes extiterunt inibi contrasectae, & qualiter non fuit adeo solempne opus humanum in aliquo alio Regno, prout sacra refert scriptura, notabiliter introduxit; in qua quidem introductione egregie demonstravit, qualiter Thronus predictus cum toto apparatu & singulis partibus suis, bonum regimen, per quod bonum publicum cujuslibet Regni crescere, ac in prosperitate valeat stabiliri, in se mystice comprehendit; & qualiter Thronus ille Regni Anglie, consideratis antiquitate & dignitate fidei Christiane in eodem Regno, nobilitateque ejusdem Regni in Prelatis, Militibus, Clericis, Mercatoribus, Cultoribus, Artificibus ac Communitate populari, a non modico tempore transacto habitis & continuatis in eodem, sine quibus aliquod opus grande hujus Regni nequit firmius stabiliri, nec Policia inter regni illius incolas continuari, specialiter significat & designat; ac pro ulteriori processu in materia Thematis supradicti, declaravit qualiter juxta Intentionem suam, gradus predicti, sex virtutes morales quamlibet Communitatem in omnimoda bonitate, quousque ad eandem prosperitatis perveniant, elevantes & conservantes

significant & designant; que quidem virtutes digne & commendabiliter practicate, sex abusiones Mundi, prout recitat Sanctus Augustinus, diruunt & excludunt. Prima namque Virtus, est intentio bona, que in singulis cogitationibus, verbis & operibus primo & principaliter est habenda, juxta illud S^{ti} Ambrosii super finis Intentionis est Actio: principium vero Actionis est Intentio. Secunda namque virtus, est benigna & humilis subjectio, que obedientia nuncupatur, & que timore pene nullatenus constringenda existit, set ex amore debito processura, prout scribit Gregorius xxx.^o moralium super illum Textum Samuelis, quasi peccatum ariolandi est repugnare, & quasi scelus idolatrie est nolle acquiescere; scribitur etenim ad Hebreos ultimo, Obedite prepositis vestris & subiecto eis, ipsi enim pervigilant quasi rationem pro Animabus vestris reddituri. Tertia virtus, est amicalis & cordialis affectio, videlicet, cum quis ad Pacem & Amorem, per quos quies & tranquillitas interius incrementumque exterioris adquiruntur, se obediatur & conformet; scribitur enim sic, Custodi innocentiam & vide equitatem, quoniam sunt reliquie hujusmodi pacifice; P^o xxxvii.^o. Et quia Tres Virtutes supradictae sunt quodammodo quedam speculativa consideratio qua quis se interius spiritualiter contempletur, consequenter subsequuntur ex fundamentis earundem alie Tres virtutes consimiles, adeo necessario & oportune ad practicam boni omnium & singulorum Hominum, cum hoc quod opere & facto debite impleantur; quarum Prima virtus, est prudens ordinatio, ob quam causam Parliamenti & Consilia principum convocantur & tenentur, ubi idem Cancellarius notavit quam necessarium sit tam pro dampnorum & inconvenientiarum evitacione quam pro proficuo & incremento Commoditatum hujus Regni, necnon contra illud nephandum Crimen perjurii in hoc Regno, ad grandem Dei offensam plus solito usitatum, verum etiam contra alia inconvenientias & delicta indles inibi contingentia, novas Leges condere, ac veteres Leges ubi necessitas exigit & requirit renovare; scribitur enim sic, Leges necessario sunt ad gubernationem rei publice; Seneca, Epistola nonagesima quarta. Item, Sanctus Augustinus de libero Arbitrio minime refrenato ita scribit, Lex ista que regend' Regnis, & Civitatibus fertur multa relinquit impunita, que per divinam providentiam vindicantur. Item, Sanctus Augustinus ad Macedonium, Epistola xxiiii, non inutiliter metu Legum humana coercetur audacia, ut tuta sit inter improbos innocentia, & in ipsis improbis, dum formidato supplicio frequatur facultas, invocato Deo sanetur voluptas. Secunda virtus, est hujusmodi Ordinationum & Statutorum diligens executio, sine qua frustra conduntur Ordinationes & Statuta. Scribitur enim sic, Parum est jus esse in Civitate, nisi sint qui jura exequantur. F. de ordinatione juris lege secunda; post originem combinavit namque egregie idem Cancellarius Ordinationem

Ordinationem & Legem ac executionem earundem in hoc textu sacre Scripture, Sedes super Thronum qui iudicas iusticiam, & sequitur, increpasti gentes & perit impius, paravit in Iudicio Thronum suum, & ipse iudicabit Orbem Terre in equitate: ubi dictus Cancellarius per quamplures Textus notabiliter declaravit, quam necessaria & expediens existat Ordinationum & Statutorum diligens executio. Tertia virtus & ultima, est perseverantia; dixerat enim ibi prefatus Cancellarius, qualiter summitas Throni predicti erat in parte rotunda, in qua quidem rotunditate, que omnimodo suo fine privabatur, notavit perseverantiam, de qua quidem perseverantia ita scribitur, Elegit Dominus Regem ut sederet in Throno Dei super Israel, & dixit, Firmabo Regnum ejus in eternum. Si tamen perseveraverit facere Precepta mea atque Judicia, sicut & hodie; primo Paralipomenon' xxviii^o. Quibus quidem sex virtutibus, dictos Sex gradus ut premititur designantibus, per prefatum Cancellarium per nonnullas Auctoritates notabiliter declaratis, idem Cancellarius concludebat, qualiter ad providend' ut infra dictum Regnum annuente Deo virtutes predictae crescere & florere, indefinenterq; ibidem continuari, vitia & abusiones inibi extirpari & deleri, & exinde Pax, Tranquillitas & Prosperitas in eodem Regno consequi valeant & haberi, prefatus metuendissimus Dominus Rex dictum Parlamentum suum fecerat convocari. Quapropter dictus Cancellarius, prefatis Communibus nomine Regio dedit firmiter in mandatis, quod in Domo sua communi & consueta, in Craistino convenirent, & unum Prelocutorem suum eligerent, ac sic electum eidem Domino Regi presentarent; declaravit insuper idem Cancellarius, de mandato dicti Domini Regis, qualiter idem Dominus Rex voluit & concessit, quod omnes & singuli Domini Spirituales & Temporales, ac Communes predicti, omnibus & Singulis Libertatibus & Privilegiis, eis & eorum cuilibet per nobiles Progenitores ipsius Domini Regis quondam Reges Anglie concessis & minime revocatis, nec per Legem Terre revocabilibus, set per ipsos & eorum quemlibet rationabiliter usitatis, gaudeant & utantur. Et ut Iusticia conquiri volentibus posset celerius adhiberi, idem Dominus Rex certos Receptores & Triatores Petitionum in predicto Parlamento exhibend' constituit & assignavit in forma subsequenti.

Englond, Harry Archebischop of Caunturbury, Waulter Lord Hungerford, and other, for the grete truste that he hadde in hem, of dyvers Castellez, Manere, Towne, Lordschippe, Honore, Londe, Tenement, Rentes, Reversions, Service, Jurisdicions, Libertees, Fraunchises, Fees, Avoufons, and other Possessions, aswell in Englond as in Wales, as of his enheritaunce, parcell of his Duchie of Lancaster, of the yerely value of vii. li. and more by estimation, to have to theym and to their Heirez, to the entent and effecte, to execute and perfourme his Wille upon the seide Fessment, to hem by hym made and declarid in writyng; the value of whiche Castellez, Manere, Towne, Lordschippe, Honore, Londe, Rentes, Tenement, Reversions, Jurisdicions, Libertee, Fraunchise, Avoufons and Possessions, astur the seide extente, fro the deth of your seide noble Fadir, into the Fest of Seinte Michell last passed, by the seide Fessment receyved and to be receyved, amounteth to the somme of c. xlii. li. and more by estimation. And how it is to suppose and conceyve, that the seide Wille of youre seide noble Fadir, by the seide Fessment of so grete and notable sommes by hem receyved, of the Issues, Profites and Revenues, comyng of the seide Castellez, Manere, Towne, Lordschippe, Honore, Londe, Tenement, Rentes, Reversions, Service, Jurisdicions, Libertee, Fraunchise, Fee and Possessions, by so long tyme beyng in their holden, might afore this tyme dieuly have ben fully executed and perfourmed, above all other chargies that are knowyn; whiche Wille perfourmed, it is to understond by all reson, good feith and conscience, that alle the seide Castellez, Lordschippe, Manere, Londe, Tenement, and all the other seide Possessions, as the olde right and enheritaunce of youre seide noble Fadir, belongeth unto you, Soverain Lord, as Heire to hym; consideryng, that the seide Fessment have no title ner interesse therynne, but only upon trust, and to his use, to execute his Wille, as it is afore reherfid; and that the seide Fessment be but fewe in nombre, whereby of liklyhode the possession therof by casuelte of deth, myght reste in oon of theym, and so descende unto his Heirez that over lyved; in whiche case, and it fortune upon a Temporall man, thenne his wyfe were therof endowable, and by suche menys your right and interesse therof, by youre lawe, the further fro you thenne they now be, to youre grete hurte and to youre likly disheritaunce. Therof considered also, that in youre Councill, the xv day of Juny, the xiith yere of your reigne, beyng thenne there my Lord of Bedford youre uncle, whome God assoille; the seide Fessment desired that by you, certeyne Lordez of youre Councill myght be depute to see the booke of receyte, and of the ministracion of the revenues in all goodly haste, of thoo Londez that they were so enfeoffid ynn; and that done, they agreed that ye myght have and receyve alle that shulde growe of the seide fessment, astur Michelmesse day thanne next comyng, by the honde of the Officere and Deputeez of the seide Fessment, so that Proclamation schulde be made before the Parlement thenne next fewyng, that every man that wolde aske dette for Housholde, Chaumbre, Wardrobe, Kynges werkes, or for money borrowed, bryng ynn to the seide Fessment the grownde that they aske it by; and if it myght appere, that the somme of the Assignement or of the Revenue of that yere, wolde not suffice for paiement for the Kynges dette afore reherfid, and for perfourmyng of his Chaunterye and of his Toumbe, thenne ye to make to the seide Fessment, for the rest that schuld so be founde, dieu assignement and agreement; and if so were that the somme of the assignement made to the seide Fessment, and the Revenue of that yere, wolde amounte to a greter somme thenne the somme of the dette, and makyng of the seide Chaunterye and Toumbe, thenne the residue therof to be paid up to you. And over that, the seide Fessment, this done, willed and agreed to make astate to you, Soverain Lord, of alle the seide Londe and Tenement that they stode enfeoffid ynn; that is to sey, of that that was Fee taile, in Fee taile, and of that that was Fee symple, in Fee symple; how be it and ye toke astate therof of youre seide Fessment in suche wise, or that they enfeoffe you therynne, ye myght not have, holde ner enjoye, the seide possessions in enheritaunce to youre availle and fuerde, in suche maner and fourme of enheritaunce, and as parcell of youre seide Duchie, as youre seide noble Fadir hem hadde and helde at the tyme of the seide fessment, and before; upon whoos desire, Writte of Proclamation procedut accordyng to theise premisles. Considered also, that in the Parlement at Redyng, the xviiith yere of youre regne, the seide Fessment among other, grauntid to you, Soverain Lord, that astur the dette that thenne was owyng unto the seide Cardinall and to the seide Archebischop of Caunturbury paid, for the whiche Assignement was made by the seide Fessment, upon the seide Castellez, Manere, Towne, Lordschippe, Honore, Londe, Tenement, Rentes, Reversions, Service, Jurisdicions, Libertee, Fraunchise, Fee, Avoufons, and other Possessions, comprised by the seide fessment, by certeyne persone by your commaundement, to the use of the seide Cardinall and Archebischop; reserwyng to the seide Fessment vii. li. yerely, unto the tyme they hadde perfourmed the seide Kyngis Wille their Fessment; that thenne all the surplusage therof, schuld be delyverid to the Tresorer of youre Householde for the tyme beyng, for the expens of the same Householde; of whiche surplusage so receyved, the seide Tresorer schulde accompt in your Eschequer; whiche dette, long tyme before the first day of this present Parlement, was paid to the seide Cardinall and Archebischop; and over that, grete and notable sommes have ben receyved sithyn the seide Parlement so beyng at Redyng. And therupon, of youre noble grace, theise premisles considerid, and for the counfort and ease of youre peple, that it plesse youre Highnesse, by auctorite of this present Parlement, to ordeigne and assigne certein persones, suche as may like to your Highnesse, to here the declaration of the seide Fessment, or of other persones by hem suche as thei will depute and name in writyng, of the seide Wille and of the execution therof, and of all the Dependence therof, and of all the Issues, Profites, Revenues, Paiementes, Costes and Expenses, of and for the seide Castellez, Manere, Towne, Lordschippe, Honore, Londe, Tenement, Rente, Reversions, Service, Jurisdicions, Libertee, Fraunchise, Fees and Possessions; and that the seide Fessment, or other persones by hem to be depute and named, be redy upon resonable warnyng, atte suche tymes and as ofte as the seide persones so to be assigned wolde ordeigne, to declare the trougt of theise premisles, with alle the circumstances and dependences of the same; and yif neither the seide Fessment, astur resonable warnyng to hem in that parcie made, ner other persones for hem, in the fourme aforeseide to be by hem namyd, come for to declare the seide Wille and execution therof, and of alle other premisles; or elles, if they come and wolde not declare theise premisles in the fourme afore reherfid, afore the seide persones so by you to be ordeyned and assigned; or ellys, if it may be founden by suche declaration, for the parte of the seide Fessment, afore the seide persones so to be assigned, that the seide Wille is perfourmed and executed, or elles that parcell therof resturbe and remayneth unperfourmed and not executed; and ye, astur reporte therof to you made, agree and contente the seide Fessment by sufficiant assignement or other wise, for the execution of the seide Wille, of as moche as thenne remayned unperfourmed and not executed; that thenne it be levestull to you, Soverain Lorde, by the seide auctorite,

It says and it says, the mercy of our Lord, as they have to know, and then your supplicants have been in thinking, having the King our Sovereign Lord's gracious letters of privy seal and commission, under the Great Seal, bearing date at Westminster the first day of June, in the sixth year of our said Lord's said Majesty, where they have had it read, and more, and all the laws and laws is pulled with them, notwithstanding that some of the number of your said supplicants have with a cowl in his bed at London, the remainder in the most ungodly wife, and robbed of all that they had, and of great pawns to depart the Countess with their lives, which hath put your poor supplicants to horrible charge and cost, and without recovery to them having for evermore.

Hastynge Chaunceller of Fraunce, and the Abbot of Gloucestre, opened by the mouth of the seide Abbot in the Parlement, by the Kyngs commaundement, bothe to the Lordes and the Commynes.

Hit is not unknown to youre grete discretions, howe hit liked oure Sovereign Lord, not lange ago to committe the governaunce of the Contrees now beyng under his obeisaunce, in his Reme of Fraunce and Duchie of Normandie, to the highe and myghty Prynce my Lord of Somerset; the whiche Prynce in his notable wysdom, seeynge experyence the grete contynual and daily damages, that ther ben don by the Adversaries, seeynge also very lyklyngesse within short tyme of intollerable hurt there, of lasse than covenantable and spedful remedye be prudently purveyed here, sente hyder my Lord Hastynge Chaunceller of Fraunce, and me in his companye, with letters of Credence to oure Sovereign Lord, to lette his Highnesse have knowlych of the doutfull and dangerous disposition, of that Contree: the whiche Credence, as his Highnesse hath commaunded, as compendiously as y can, y shall open to your wysdomes.

Our Credence conteyneth principally 111 thynges. The first ys, to shewe the grete puillance and long advysed Ordenaunce, furnyshed with all manere abillements of werre of thadverse part, the which daily fortifie and repaire. stufte all theire Garisons in the Fronteres of the Kyngs obeisaunce, goyng and rydyng within the seide obeisaunce armed in grete nombre, ayeinst the tenour of the Trewe, doynge murtheres innumerable, takynge the Kyngs subgettez prisoners, as it were pleyne werre; with other grete and lamentable Injuries, as open Robberyes, Oppressions and Pilleries withoute nombre; of the which offenses, they hadde be dyvers tymes somond and required by my said Lord of Somerset to make cesse, and repaire them after the tenour of the Trewe, but nother remedie ne resonable answere may in eny wyse as yit hadde; wherfore hit may be presupposed, by theire froward dedes and contrarious disposition, that theire intencion is not to procede effectually to eny good conclusion of pees.

Also the Kyngs Oncle hath commaunded and made crye thorough all his obeisaunce, that all Nobles prepare them to be redy horsed, armed, and in all wyse abilled as longeth to men of Armes, within xv daies warnyng, uppon payne of forfeiture of all theire liffode; the nombre of which men is grete and inestimable.

Also semblably, the Kyng's Oncle hath commaunded to be cryed in every parishe of his obeisaunce, under the same payne of forfeiture, that every xxx men furnyssh a man horsed, and armed in bryganders, and leggharnesse, with a longe Bowe, or a crosse Bowe, and charged expressly that they do non other labour, but excercise them to theire seide Bowes and Harneys; the nombre of whiche Men so abiled and arayed, as it is seid by credible persons, that of reson shold therof have very knowlych, excedith lx m Men. This is the first part of oure Credence.

The secunde parte ys, to shewe that if the werre shuld falle, as God defende, the Contrey of Normandie is in no wyse of himself sufficient, to make resistance ayeinst the grete puillance of the Adversaries, for many grete considerations. First, forther is no place in the Kyngs obeisaunce there purveyed nother in Reparations, Ordenaunce, ne in eny maner Artillerie, but well nygh all places ben in such ruyne, that though they were stuffed with Men and Ordenaunce, the be so ruynous, that they be unable to be diffended and kept; the which Reparations and Ordenaunce to be purveyed sufficiently, wold drawe to inestimable costes.

Also atte the last graunt of the Eyde in Normandie, hit was openly purposed by 111 Astates there, that the generall povert of Contree was so grete, that it was impossible for hem to bere eny more hereafter suche charges charges, as they have bore herebyfore; wherefore they desired to have nombre of Men of werre made lesse, or elles to shewe to the Kyngs Highnesse, that ther myght be hadde good of Englonde to bere the said charges: for of necessite they saide, they most be spared for certeyn yerres of suche paiementz, or ell they moste be nedly constrayned to goo ther way, and forsake the Contree, and suffre the lande to be abandoined to the Adversaries, the whiche God ever deffend. This is the secunde part of Credence.

The thrid part is, to remembre that the finall terme of the last Trewe approchith fast, for as youre wysdomes have well in mynde, hit shall laste nowe not xiiii monethes, and therefore it is thought right high tyme, to bygynne your purveance for the safeguard of that noble land. Wherefore my Lord of Somerset moost humblye besekith the Kyngs Highnesse, tenderly prayeth all my Lordes his Conseilliers, and hertly willyth all youre wysdomes, to have that noble land in youre good and speciall remembraunce, calling to youre mynde the grete, inestimable, and well nygh infinite cost and effusion bothe of Good and Blood, that this land hath borne and suffered for that land sake; wherof the shamefull losse, the whiche God ever defende, shuld not oonly be to the irreparable hurt of the commyn profite, but also a everlasting spite, and perpetuell denigration in the fame and renoune of this noble Reme. In eschuyng wherof, and also lest his silence in this behalve myght in eny wyse be leyd hereafter, my said Lord of Somerset, for his trewe aquytaill, yave us in commaundement, to open his Credence on his behalf to the Kyngs Highnesse, or to suche as it pleasid his Grace to commaunde to here us. Wherefore, seth by his commaundement ye have benyngly herd us, as we have in the name of my said Lord of Somerset, in the most humble wyse besought the Kyngs Highnesse, and lowly prayed all my Lordes in this Parlement assembled, in lyke wyse tenderly we desire all youre wysdomes, that now represent all the Comyns of this land, that it like to wey well all the considerations of this Credence in your grete discretions, and to helpe to purveye such eide, remedie and brief expedition, as the merites of the mater requiryd.

18. MEMORAND'. That in the Parlement holden at Westm', the yere of the reigne of our Sovereign Lord Kyng Harry the vith after the conquest xxiiiith, there was a contraverisie mooved, betwene William Erle of Arundell on the oon partie, and Thomas Erle of Devonshire on the other partie, in the presence of oure seide Sovereign Lord, for the setes, places and preemynencez of the same Erles, to be hadde in the Kynges high presence, aswell in his high Court of Parlement, as in his Counsell, and elles where, as by diverse Writynges made, shewed and declared betwene the seid parties in the same Parlement, more pleyntly it may appere; which maters and declarations, with all their incidentes, the Kyng of his Highnes, by thadvise of his Lordes Spirituell and Temporell then beyng in the same Parlement, committed to certeyn Lordes of the same Parlement, for to examyn and decide. And for asmoche as the same Lordes, hadde not deliberation of tyme to here, examyn and decide the seide maters, titulls and declarations, bytwene the seide Erles; hit hath liked the Kyng our Sovereign Lord of his Highnesse, by thavce of his Lordes Spirituell and Temporell, in this present Parlement holden at Westm' the xiith day of Fevver, the yere of his reigne xxviith; That the Juges of the lawe of the lande beyng in the same Parlement, shuld here, see and examyn the seid maters, titulls and declarations, and as they conceyve therein, they to report to the Kynges Highnesse, and to the Lordes in the same Parlement: which Juges heryng and seyng these premysses, and all the writynges put to the Kynges Highnesse by the seide Erles therof, with an Acte exemplified, made in the Parlement holden at Westm' the xith yere of the reigne of our seid Sovereign Lord, for John late Erle of Arundell, they sayen and declareyn after their conceites, that it is mater of Parlement longyng to the Kynges Highnesse, and to his Lordes Spirituell and Temporell in Parlement, by theym to be decided and determyned: Howe be it that the seide Acte, made mention but oonly that the seide John late Erle of Arundell, Brother of the seid William, whos Heire he is, shuld have his sete, place and preemynence in the Kynges presence, aswell in his Parlements and Counells, as elles where, as Erle of Arundell, as in the same Acte more openly hit apperith; in which Acte both not expressed in writyng, the Heirs of the same late Erle, notwithstanding that he was sefid and enherited in the Castell, Honour and Lordshipp of Arundell, wherto the seid name, estate and dignite of Erle of Arundell, is, and of tyme that no mynde is, hath been unyed and annexed, and by that reason he beere and had that name, and not by wey of Creation, as the same Juges understood by the same Acte; and that it belongeth to be discussid and determyned by the Kyng and his Lordes, and not in other wise. Whereupon the Kyng our Sovereign Lord, by thavce and assent of the Lordes Spirituell and Temporell, beyng in this same present Parlement, considering the title and right of the seid Erle of Arundell, in the premysses opened, shewed and declared, by grete deliberation of tyme, aswell in writyng as otherwyse, betwene the seid Erles, in diverse Parliaments, declared, determined and decreed, yat William nowe Erle of Arundell, have, kepe and enjoye his sete, place and preemynence, in the high Court of Parlement, and in the Kynges Counsell, and elles where in the Kynges high presence, as Erle of Arundell, by reason of the Castell, Lordshipp and Honour of Arundell, as worshipfully as ever did eny of his Auncetours Erles of Arundell afore this tyme, for hym and for his Heirs for evermore, above the seid Erle of Devonshire and his Heirs, withoute lettynge, challenge or interruption of the seid Erle of Devonshire, or of his Heirs, or eny other persone; ony title shewed, declared or pretended by the seid Erle of Devonshire in the premysses notwithstanding. And specially to the first parte of the first Article, he said, it must nedes be untrue, for it is ympossible that he shuld soo doo, for they that thus have accused hym can not fynde the meanes howe to make it possible. And as for the secund part of the first Article, it is ayenst lawe and reason to make the seid Margarete soo nygh the Corone; and as for his aquitall, he reporteth hym to a grete part of the Lordes, that if the Duke of Warre- wykes Doughter hadde lyved, he had cast to mary his sonne to her, and not unto the seid Margarete. And as to many of the remenaunt of the Articles, som he re- ferreth hym to Actes made in the Counseill, and to some Actes made in the Parlement, and also to the Kynges Lettres patentes to hym made of the same Actes. And as for the delyveraunce therof, he leyde all that charge to the Pryvy Seall late Bysshop of Chiche- tre, declaryng the fourme howe and in what wise the seid Pryvy Seall delyvered the seid Towne, declaryng the seid Pryvy Seall also in dyvers maters laboured by hym to the grete disclaundre of the seid Duke, full falls and untrue. And as touchyng to that he shuld have seid in the Sterre Chambre, which wordes been ex- pressed in the vi Article, he said hem not in forme as that Article specifieth, but under other langage, and yet that he said, he said it not in such wyse as it myght en- force the mater of the seid Article, nor to that entent that he shuld therby be any Counsiller to the Kynges Adversarie.

And the seid Duke answered and seid, they were to horrible to speke more of theym, and seid openly to the Kyng and all the Lordes, that all the Articles comprehended in the seid Bille, touchyng the Kynges high persone, and th'astate of his Roialme, he trusteth to God he hath answered hem sufficiently, for he hath denyed the dayes, the yeres, the places, and the communications hadde, which were never thought nor wrought, seiynge utterly they been fals and untrue, and in manere impossible, for he seid so grete thinges coude not be doon nor brought aboute by hymself alone, onlesse that other persones had doon her parte and be privy thereto aswell as he, and he toke his soule to perpetuell dampnation, yf ever he knewe more of thoo maters then the Childe in the Moders wombe; and soo he not departyng from his seid answers and de- clarations, submytted hym holy to the Kynges rule and governaunce,

51. SIRE, y conceyve you that ye not departyng from youre answers and declarations in the maters aforeseid, not puttyng you uppon youre Parage, submitte you hooly to the Kynges rule and governaunce. Wherefore the Kyng commaundeth me to sey you, that as touchyng the grete and horrible thinges in the seid first Bille comprised, the Kyng holdeth you neither declared nor charged. And as touchyng the secund Bille putte ayenst you, touchyng mesprisfions which be not crymynall, the Kyng, by force of youre submission, by his owne advis, and not reportyng hym to th'advis of his Lordes, nor by wey of Jugement, for he is not in place of Jugement, putteth you to his rule and governaunce: That is to say, that ye, before the first day of May next commyng, shull absteine youre self oute of his Reame of Englonde; and also, from the seid first day of May, unto the ende of v yere next folowyng and fully complete, ye shull absteine you to abyde in his Roialme of Fraunce, or in any other Lordshippes or places beyng under his

That where Thomas Thorp, the Monday the . . . day of the moneth of . . . the yere of the reigne of Kyng Harry the Sexte xxxi, came to the place of the Bishop of Durham, and then and there toke and bare away certeyn godes and Cateles of the seid Dukes, agayn his will and licence; and theruppon the same Duk, camed and toke an action by Bille in Michell terme last past agayn the seid Thomas, in the Court of th'Eschequer, accordyng to the Privelegge of the same Court, for somuche that the same Thomas was oon of the Court, by which Privelegge he ought to be enpleted in that Court of th'Eschequer in suche cases, and in noon other Court, to the which Bille the seid Thomas wilfully appered, and had diverse daies to emparle atte his requeste and desire, and to the said Bille and Action answered and pleted not gylty: Whereuppon ther was awarded in the seid Eschequer, a Venire fac' to the Shirreve of Midd', retornable in the seid Eschequer, and there by the Jurre that passed betwene the said Duke and the said Thomas, it was founde that the same Thomas was gylty of the trespas conteigned in the seid Bille. And the same Jurr' assessed the dampages to the said Duke for the seid trespas to a m li., and for his costes x li., and theruppon juggement was yeven in the seid Eschequer, and the said Thomas accordyng to the cours of the lawe was committe to the Flete, for the fyne belongyng to the Kyng in that behalve. And therupon it was praied humbly of the behalve of the seid Duke, that it shuld like theire goode Lordships, consideryng that the said trespas was doon and committe by the said Thomas fith the begynnyng of this present Parlement, and also the said Bille and Action were take and camed, and by proceffe of lawe juggement theruppon yeven agayn the said Thomas, in tyme of vacation of the same Parlement, and not in Parlement tyme; and also that if the said Thomas shuld be releffed by Privelegge of Parlement, or the tyme that the seid Duke be satisfied of his said dampages and costes, the same Duke shuld be withoute remedie in that behalve; that the seid Thomas, accordyng to the lawe, be kepte in ward to the tyme that he have fully content and satisfied the said Duke of his said dampages and costes: The seid Lordes Spirituelx and Temporelx, not entendyng to empeche or hurt the Libertees and Privelegges of theym that were coffen for the Commune of this lande to this present Parlement, but egally after the cours of lawe to mynystre justice, and to have knowlegge what the lawe will wey in that behalve, opened and declared to the Justices the premissey, and axed of theym whether the seid Thomas ought to be delivered from prison, by force and vertue of the Privelegge of Parlement or noo. To the which question, the chefe Justicez in the name of all the Justicez, after sadde communication and mature deliberation hadde amonge them, answered and said; that they ought not to aunswere to that question, for it hath not be used afore tyme, that the Justicez shuld in eny wyse determine the Privelegge of this high Court of Parlement; for it is so high and so mighty in his nature, that it may make lawe, and that that is lawe it may make noo lawe; and the determination and knowlegge of that Privelegge belongeth to the Lordes of the Parlement, and not to the Justices. But as for declaration of procedyng in the lawer Courttes, in suche cases as writtes of Superfedas of Privelegge of Parlement be brought and delivered, the said chief Justice said;

said; that ther be many and diverse Superfedeas of Privelegge of Parlement brought in to the Courtés; but ther ys no generall Superfedeas brought to surcesse of all processe; for if ther shuld be, it shuld seeme that this high Court of Parlement, that ministrerh all Justice and equitee, shuld lette the processe of the commune lawe, and so it shuld put the partie compleynaunt withoute remedie, for so muche as actions atte commune lawe be not determined in this high Court of Parlement; and if any persone that is a membre of this high Court of Parlement be arested in suche cases as be not for treason or felony, or suerte of the peas, or for a condemnation hadde before the Parlement, it is used that all such persones shuld be releffed of such arrestes and make an Attourney, so that they may have their freedom and libertee, frely to entende upon the Parlement. After which aunswere and declaration, it was thorowly agreed, assented and concluded by the Lordes Spirituelx and Temporelx, that the seid Thomas, accordyng to the lawe, shuld remayne stille in prison for the causes abovesaid, the Privelegge of the Parlement, or that that the same Thomas was Speker of the Parlement, notwithstanding; and that the premisses shuld be opened and declared to theym that were comen for the Commune of this land, and that they shuld be charged and commaunded in the Kynges name, that they with all goodly hast and spede, procede to th'election of an other Speker. The which premisses, for asmoche as they were materes in lawe, by the commaundement of the Lordes were opened and declared to the Commons, by the mouthe of Walter Moyle, oon of the Kynges Sergeantz atte lawe, in the presence of the Bishop of Ely, accompanied with other Lordes in notable nombre; and ther it was commaunded and charged to the said Commons, by the seid Bishop of Ely in the Kynges name, that they shuld procede to th'election of an other Speker with all goodly hast and spede, so that the materes for the which the Kyng called this his Parlement might be proceded yn, and this Parlement take goode and effectuell conclusion and ende.

Responso.

For asmoche as hit was moeved by the Bishop of London, for 1111 Knyghtes to take the charge therof uppon them, hit is appointed that the Lord Gray, shall therein have communication with the seid Bishop; and that Sr James Strangwais, and Maister Robert Beaumont, shall commune with the Merchauntez, to sele them if they wull take uppon them the same charge, which keypyng is odirwyse purveid fore by Act of auctorite of Parlement.

vi. ITEM, that the seid Toun and Castel of Caleis, and all the Castels and Fortresses in the Marches therof, be in peisible and restfull wyse delivered withoutyn delaye, to suche persones as shall have of me power to resceive them on my behalfe, and to kepe them at fredame and liberte, and to use for me ther suche auctorite, as I shall and mowe of your high auctorite that shal be to me committed committe unto them, for the sauvegard and keypyng of the same, withouten lette or disturbance of eny of your Subgetz.

ITEM, that eny auctorite or power, to eny othir person before made, for the keypyng and sauvegard of the seid Toun and Castel of Calais, and of the Marches therof, and th'enditures theruppon made, bee by th'assent of the Lordes Spirituelz and Temporelz, and the Communes in this said Parlement assembled, and by th'auctorite therof voided, rappelled, revoked, adnulled, and of no force nor effect, as toward the occupation of keypyng of the seid Toun and Castell of Caleis, and the Marches ther, from the day of the deliverance of the same Toun, Castel and Marches, made to me.

Responso.

Hit is thought sufficient and agreeable, that th'enditures and Letters Patentes of the seid Duc, touchyng the rule and gouernance of the seid Castell and Toun, shal be surrendede and cancelled; and that in th'enditures betwix the Kyng and the Duc of York, to be of and for the seid rule and gouernance made, a provision be made, that the same Duc be not charged of the keypyng of the said Castel and Toun, unto tyme they bee to hym or to his Deputees peafible and at fredame delivered, the seid Enditures notwithstanding.

vii. ITEM, that all stufte of Vitaille, Habiliments of werre, Artillarie, and of all othir ordinance of you our saide Soverain Lord, beyng within the seid Toun, Castels and Fortresses, or eny of them, be to me shewed by endenture. And in cas that suche Stufte, Habiliments, Artillarie and Ordonnance, will not suffice for the sauvegard, defence and tuition of the same Toun, Castels and Fortresses: That than incontinent aftir notice therof made to you or your Counseil, sufficient and competent stufte of Vitaille, Ordonnance, Habiliments of werre and Artillerie, be withoutyn delaye pourvede and had, and delivered for the seid sauvegard and defense.

Responso.

Hit is thought resonable.

(m. 9.)

viii. ITEM, that hit plaife our said Soverain Lord, by th'assent abovefeld, to ordeine and establishe in the saide Parlement, and by th'auctorite therof, that all manere of persones havynge eny Office or Offices within the seid Tounes, Castels, Fortresses or Marches, of the graunte of our said Soverain Lord, or of eny of his noble Progenitours, use thaire continuell abood uppon thaire said Office or Offices; and that the Letters Patentes and grauntes, of such persones as woll not so abide and duelle, aftir a moneth next folowyng soo for to abide and duelle, bee by the seid auctorite voided: Except onely, that the Tresorer and Vitailer of the seid

Toun and Marches for the tyme beyng, shall repaire into this lande by my licence, for suche things as for thaire offices be necessarily required, for the same Toun and Marches.

Responso.

Hit is thought to be had in this fourme. That it please the Kyng our Soverain Lord, by th'assent abovefeld, to ordeine and establishe in the seid Parlement, and by auctorite therof, that all manere persones havynge eny Office or Offices within the seid Tounes, Castels, Fortresses or Marches, of the graunte of our seid Soverain Lord, or of eny of his noble Progenitours, use thaire continuell abood uppon thaire seid Office or Offices, but such persone or persones have licence of me or my Lieutenaunt, to be graunted hym for the tyme of a monethe or within in a yere: And that the Letters Patentes and Grauntes, of suche persones as woll not soo abide and duelle, aftir a monerh next folowyng aftir proclamation to be made in London and in Caleis, so for to abide and duelle, bee by the seid auctorite voided: Except onely, the Tresorer and Vitailer of the seid Toun and Marches for the tyme beyng, shall repaire into this lande by my licence, for such thinges as for thaire Offices be necessarily required, for the same Toun and Marches.

ix. ITEM, that I may have auctorite and power of the Kyng our said Soverain Lord under his grete Seel, for to doo make and yve under my Seel, Sauveconduits, Protections, Licences, Sueretes and Sauvegardes, and use, have and enjoye all such emoluments, issues and proufits, and all othir Fredames and Libertees in the seid Toun, Castels, Fortresses and Marches, as amplie, as largelie and as frelie, as that noble and wurthi Prince Humfrey late Duc of Gloucestre ever eny suche there had; soo that my saide Sauveconduits and Licencez, mowe stracche aswell by watur as by lande, for vitaillyng of the said Toun, Castels and Fortresses, and every of them, and for paiement of the finances of prisonners.

It is thought that there be had such power as Humfrey Duc of Gloucestre, Humfrey Duc of Buk, or Richard late Erle of Warr, late Capitaynes of the seid Toun of Caleis, ever thier had.

Responso.

x. ITEM, for somuch as of tymes here tofore, I have been desired to doo our said Soverain Lord service, aswell in his Reaume of Fraunce and Duchie of Normandie, as in his lande of Irlond, wherunto at the pleisir of his good grace I alweye applied me, to my to grete and outrageous charge and coste, which drowe and compelled me for lak of paiement of my wages, to celle a grete substance of my lyvelood, to leye in plege all my grete Jewellys, and the most partie of my Plate not yet raquited, and therfor like to be loost and forfeited; and overe that, to endaungere me to all my Frenches, by chevisance of good of thaire love, for their accomplishment of the service and charge, whiche at the seid desire I toke upon me in the saide Reaume of France, Duchie and Lond of Irlond, not faisible without notable good, for the which divers sommes of moneye bee to me due; for paiement wherof, mony promisses have been to me made, not parfoured.

Hit plaife the Highnesse of our said Soverain Lord, by th'advise of his Conseil, to ordeine and provide for me due and agreeable paiement of the said sommes, wherthorugh I mowe doo unto his high excellens the better service, upon the sauvgard of the said Toun, Castel and Marches, and ellys where.

The Tresorer of Englund, by th'assent and desire of all the Lordes, is agreed to se wher ther may be eny way of grounde founde, for the contentyng of my seid Lord Response.

It is thought resonable, soo it be accorded therfor with the Tresorer of Englund.

And that every pſone or pſones ſhall have the libertie to bye and to ſell all manere of Wolles withyn this Roialme, above the valeu and prices in the ſeid Cedula ſpecified, to the moſt avayle of the ſeller; this Aſte notwithstanding. Staple of Calais.

BESECHEN mekely your Coes in this your pſent Parlement aſſembled; That ſithen the time of youre noble pgenitours, for the pſperite and welfare of youre noble Reaume of Englonde, and for the ſuſtentacion of youre Town of Caleys, it was ordeined by divers Statuts and Ordinaunces, that the Staple ſhuld be intierly at youre ſaid Town of Caleys, and in noon other place beyonde the See; that is to wete, that all the Wolles, Wolfelles, Hides, Lede and Tynne, and all other Merchaundiſes paſſing oute of this your ſaide Reaume, and oute of the londes of Wales and Irlande, ſhuld hoolly paſſen and repaire to the ſeid Staple and to noon other place, upon peine of forfeiture of them, except ſuche Merchandiſes as in the ſeid Statuts and Ordinaunces been expreſſed and forpriſed, as in them is plainly made mencion. The which Statuts and Ordinaunces, the ſecond yere of youre Reigne, were approved, affermed, and ordeined to be duely executed. Nevertheleſſe undre colours of excepcions conteined in the ſeid Statuts and Ordinaunces, als wel as by colour of licences to divers pſones by you Soſaigne Lord made and graunted continually from time to time, ther hath been, and yitte is ladde and conveyed out of youre ſeid Reaume, and out of youre landes of Irlande and Wales, grete quantite of Wolle, Wolfelles, Hydes, Lede and Tynne, and many other Merchandiſes, into Flaundres, Holand, Zeland and Braban, and to other pries, not reſortyng to youre ſeid Staple as they oughten to doo. For which cauſes, Soſaigne Lord, ye be defrauded of your Cuſtomes and Subſidies, that ſhuld amounte to notable ſummes to youre encreſſe, if ye therof were duely anſwerd and content. Furthermore youre Mynte at Caleys is like to ſtonde voide, deſolate, and to be deſtroied; and alſo the comoditees of Merchaundiſes of youre ſeid Reaume, for the cauſes aforſaide, within ſhort time to be gretly anitiſed, but if remedie be purveied in this prie. Wherefore liketh it to youre excellent grace to conſidere thees pmiſſes, and upon that, by th'avys of youre Lordes Spuell and Temporell, and by auſtorite of this your pſent Parlement, to ordeine, that no maner pſone ſhippe nor do ſhippe from this day forward, any maner Wolle, Wolfelle, Hides, Lede or Tynne, and them lede or conveye out of any pries of youre ſeid Reaume, or out of youre londes of Wales and Irlande, to any other pries beyonde the See, but oonly to the ſeid Staple at Caleys, upon peine of emprifonment of his body by the ſpace of ii yere withouten baille or mainpriſe. And he that can aſpie any pſone from this day forward, that offendeth or dothe the contrarie to thees Ordinaunces in any wiſe, and pſenteth that offense to the Treſorer of Englonde for the time being, the treſpaſſour therof duely and lawfully convicte by examinacion before the Chaunceller of Englonde, or the Treſorer and Barons

And also saving to the Burgeys of Berwyk upon Twede, the privileges and benefices to them grauntid before this time for shipping of Wolles, Wolleselles, of the growyng of Northumberland, Cumberland, and the Bishoprliche of Durham, this Ordinaunce notwithstanding. And that the price at Caleys upon Wolles, Wolfelles and Tynne, be justly kept and observed, and noght abated, but rather augmented and put to more encrease and advantage. And that half the paiement there be made in hande for the seid Wolles, Wolfelles and Tynne, in Golde and Sylver, and suerte made and take for the other halfe, withouten any subtilte or collusion. And that the Bolion be brought to the Mynte at Caleys, that is to sey, for every Sarplere of Wolle of wiche the sak weyght is folde for xii Marcs, vi Marcs; x Marcs, v li.; viii Marcs, iiii li.; and of the Wolfelles after th'asseraunt, to be forged into the Kynges coyne. And that at all times the Merchauntz sellers, make acquitances to the Merchaunts biers, and to be enseled undre the seal there therfore ordeined or to be ordeined within the forsaide Staple; to th'entent that noo Merchaunt shall leewe to any Merchaunt straunger, any maner of Money of him received neither of Wolles ne of Wolfelles, but that the same Money mowe be brought into this youre Reaume without subtilte or fraude. And that it shal be leedul for every of youre seid liege peple from this time forward, to bringe the seid Wolles and Wolfelles to the seid Staple of Caleys, and them to utter and selle there, and to take for his parte at every sale there made, according to the Ordenaunce and pucion besoraid; and to be free there to enjoye and have at all times all maner of libertees and customes, as eny of the feliship of the seid Staple hath or shal have, without any fyne making or paying therfore, except ordinarie charges. And that noo Merchaunt continually inhabitaunt within the seid Town of Caleys, nor any other pson to his use, by crafte or covyn bye, or by wey of eschaunge accept or take, any maner of Merchandise of the seid Staple. And that noo maner of licence for shipping of Wolles, Wolfelles or Tynne hereafter to be graunted to any pson or psones, except thoos that by auctorite of this youre p'sent Parlement be graunted, be effectuell nor availlable to him or them, to carie or lede any suche Wolles, Wolfelles or Tynne, oute of this youre Reaume of Englonde, Irland or Wales, to any other place then to the seid Staple of Caleys. And that all maner of licence by you oure forsaide So'vaine Lord, or any of youre heires or successours, to any pson or psones to be graunted, of or for Wolles, Wolfelles or Tynne, to be hadde, caried or shipped out of this youre seid Reaume of Englonde, Irland or Wales, to any other place then to the forsaide Staple, except before except, be voide and of noon effecte. And that every pson or psones which accepteth, obteineth and put in execution any suche licence, that he or thei to whoos use any suche licence shal be graunted and hadde, by them or any other by their aggrement and consent put in execution, be oute of your pteccion, except before except. And over that, that it be leedul to the Maire, Constables, and the Felyship of Merchaunts of the seid Staple, and to their successours for evermore, to sue an accion upon this Statute ayenst any pson or psones as doth offende ayenst thees Ordinaunces and Statuts or any of them: and to have suche pcesse therein as is pvided in a p'munire fac', or such pcesse as by the coe lawe is in an accion of trespasse doon ayenst youre pees, at their election; so that the seid accion be comenced within halfe a yere next after the seid offense, and that their pcesse be wel continued and effectually sued, and execution hadde where it requireth, without fraude or covyne; and elles that it be leedul to every of youre lieges that wol sue either of the seid accions, and to have judgement and execution before reherfed. Cujus quidem Cedula tenor sequitur & est talis.

WHERE that Edmund late Duc of Somerset, Thomas Thorp, and William Joseph, entending as it is supposd to the hurte and destruction of oure true right trusty and well beloved Cousyns, Richard Duc of York, Richard Erle of Warrewik, and Richard Erle of Salisbury, and of their heires; moved and sollicitid us by diverse meanes to mistruste oure seid Cousyns, and to instraunge theym from oure favour and good grace, asfermyng theym not oure true Liegemen, and therefore provoked and stired us to have proceeded with grete might of people under colour of oure matiers, where noon we hadde, to the avaunsyng of their owne matiers and quarels. Oure said Cousyns understanding and consideryng as they saye, the labours made ayenst theym, and that the said Edmonde, Thomas, and William, for th'execution of their entent, enforced thaim with grete might of men in diverse Countreys, moche harneys and grete habilmentes of werre, addressed thaim toward oure presence; to declare theim oure true Liegemen, the better accompanied for their suertee, and to resiste such malice as they verely demed was purposed to have been executed ayenst them, at thaire commyng unto us, by the seid Edmonde, Thomas, and William, and for noon other cause; and to th'entent that we shuld not wondre nor mervaille of the commyng of oure said Cousyns asorercherced toward us, nor of the manere therof, nor have any suspicion or mystrust therof toward oure persone, they wrote thaire letters at Roiston the xx day of May last passed; and thaim sent afore thaire commyng unto us, for thaire declaration and desire, to the most Reverend Fadre in God Th'archiebishop of Caunterbury, oure Chaunceller of Englonde, to be by hym opened unto us, whereof th'endorment and teneur foloweth hereafter.

19. TO the right Reverend Fadre in God, right worshipfull and with all oure hertes right entirely welbelovyd Cousyn, Th'archiebishop of Caunterbury, and Chaunceller of Englonde. Right Reverend Fadre in God, right worshipfull and with all oure hertes right entirely welbelovyd Cousyn, We recommaunde us unto you. And for somuche as we here that a greet rumour and wondre is hadde of oure commyng, and of the manere therof, toward the most noble presence of the Kyng oure moost doubted Soverain Lord, and that by diverse persones such as of approved experience have not put thaim in such devoir to that that might have avaunced the honour and prosperite of him, of this his noble Reaume, and his people of the same, as accorded with their trouthe and duetee, many doubttes and ambiguites be thrawn to his Magestee Roiall, and amonge the peeple, of oure trouthe and duetee unto his Highnesse: We havynge consideration unto th'office the heed of Justice of this lande that ye occupie, notifie unto youre worthy Faderhood and Cousinage, that of oure said commyng, ner of the manere therof, we entende not with Goddes grace to procede to any matier or thyng, other than with Goddes mercy shal be to his plesire, the honour, prosperite and wele of oure said Soveraine Lord, his said land and people. Alwey kepyng oure trouthe to his said Highnesse unspotted and unbrused, entending to drawe directly togidres with you, and all other Lordes of this lande, that be of such tendre zeale and affection to the honour, prosperite and wele of oure said Soveraine Lord, his said Reaume and people, as we hold undoubted ye bee, and as blissed be God ye approve youre self to youre grete laude and worship, to the profite and uncolored groundes and conclusions of suche thinges as of reason mowe most spedely growe to the said honour and wele, and the good publique, restfull and politike rule and governaunce of his said lande and people, withoute any thyng takyng or presumyng upon oure self, withoute th'avis and assent of you, and of the said Lordes; leiyng therefore apart oure owne particuler quarels, which we shall never preferre afore the duetee, trouthe, love and affection, that we owne unto oure said Soveraine Lord, his said Reaume and people. Over this like it you to wite, that we understond the callyng and stablisshyng of the Kynges Counsaill at his Towne of Leycestre, toke the grounde by such as we conceyve caused th'appointement therof there, for suertee of his moost noble persone, which of commun presumption implieth a mistrust to somme persones: We therefore his true and humble Liegemen, have accompaigned us the better, to th'entent to emploie us in such devoir as accordeth with oure duetee, to that that may be the suertee of his said most noble

A. D. 1455 noble persone, wherein we woll neither spare our bodies nor goodes; and also to knowe whoo be had in jelosy of such mistrust, to th'entent that we mowe procede to the subduyng of thaim; beyng culpables of the thyng causyng such mistrust, or elles by th'avis of your said Faderhood and the said Lordes; to remove the ambiguites and occasion of the same mistrust. We also; understand what colorable and subtile meanes be made by oure Enemies; holdyng thaim colorably aboute the said moost noble persone of oure said Sovereine Lord, of might of men and habilementes of weire have, the more surely accompaigned us, to th'entent that at oure comyng to his most high presence, we mowe be of power to kepe oureselfe oute of the daungier wherunto oure said Enemies have not cessid to studie labour and compassse to bryng us; such as in allewise we will eschewe with Goddes grace.

ITEM, for asmoche as we understonde that other Lordes of this lande have be late sent fore, by the Kynges commaundement under his Letters, to comen unto his Counsaill privately late called at Westmynstre, whereunto we have not been among the said Lordes called, we conceyve a jelosy had ayenst us, wherof we purpose with Goddes grace to declare us, and to shewe us such as we be in oure trouthe, duete and liegance; to oure said Sovereine Lord; entyndyng in alle wyse to remove the said jelosy, which we woll eschewe to have liyng dormant upon us. Furthermore, we hearyng the grete defaime and blasfeme thrawn ayenst us by oure said Ennemies of oure said comyng, require you on Goddes behalf, and of the feith and trouthe that ye owe unto oure said Sovereine Lord, on his behalf also require you, and on oure owne exhorte and pray you; that ye standyng the Fadre and Metropolitan of the Chirche of Englonde, wol at oure request make oute with all possible diligence, the censures of the Chirche, to be opened and leied at the crosse of Saint Paul within the Citie of London; and thurgh all the parties of this land, in as rigorous and timorous manere as the Chirche wol suffre it, uppon and ayenst all thaim that entende any untowhyn prejudice, hurt or derogation, ayenst th'estate, prosperite and welfare of oure said Sovereine Lord, or his said land. And that this oure Lettre of bure entent God knoweth, wherin we trust ye wol be partinere; and therof require you of the feith, trouthe and duete that ye owe to God, to oure said Sovereine Lord, his said land and people, it wol like you to shewe and minstre unto his high Excellence; and to the Lordes of his Counsaill, makyng also oure said entent to be shewed to all other to whom it apperteigneth by youre wysdome, for the removyng and overthrawyng of the cedicious and fraudulent blasfeme and defaime, untruly savyng youre reverence leyed upon us; oure Lord knoweth; the which request in the premisses we make unto you, first on Goddes behalf, as to the Fadre of the Chirche of this land, and on the Kynges behalf, as to the Chaunceller and Chief Justice of the same; and also on oure owne behalf, and on the behalf of the Lordes, Knyghtes, Squiers, and all other people beyng with us, which have desired and required us to make to you the said request, wherein we desire and pray you to put you in such devoir, as it belongeth you of youre duete to God, to oure said Sovereine Lord, and his said land; that of any inconvenient that for lacke thereof mowe falle, that God defende, noo charge or burdon be leyed upon you, wherof we wold be right sorry, as knoweth oure blessid Creatour, whoo your said Faderhood and Cousinage evermore preserve and guyde in all honour, felicity and welfare.
